EXPERIENCE

Svitla Systems Inc. Working remotely

Senior Frontend Developer January 2025 — Present

- Owned end-to-end delivery of complex features including an AI-powered story creation pipeline — designed the full architecture (Zustand state machine, dual user flows, feature flags), wrote technical documentation before implementation, and shipped ahead of deadline.
- Drove a platform-wide Next.js migration, resolving critical architectural constraints. Translated Figma designs into accessible, production-ready React components with strong attention to design system consistency and performance.
- Established team-wide coding standards and drove a large-scale legacy code reduction. Grew into cross-team leadership — conducting code reviews, guiding architecture, and partnering with backend and QA on delivery quality.

Middle Frontend Developer August 2024 — January 2025

- Led the migration of a legacy course platform to a modern React stack, ensuring seamless transition of content, functionality, and user experience.
- Collaborated with QA to maintain high standards of design accuracy, functionality, and audio quality throughout the migration.
- Built and enhanced internal developer tools, streamlining workflows and improving team productivity.

SupportYourApp Working remotely

Technical Support Consultant & Frontend Developer August 2023 — August 2024

- Resolved complex technical issues for software products, achieving a 95% customer satisfaction score across email and phone support.
- Applied HTML, CSS, and JavaScript expertise to debug customer-facing frontend and backend issues, reducing resolution times.
- Identified recurring user pain points and communicated findings to product teams, contributing to improved product usability.

Freelance Activity Argentina

Frontend React Developer March 2022 — Present

- Built responsive web applications for local businesses across hospitality, services, and real estate, from requirements through deployment.
- Delivered production-ready interfaces using React, Next.js, TypeScript, and Tailwind CSS, prioritizing performance and accessibility.
